BLOOMFIELD INDUSTRIES.

Mr. Editor: It may be interesting to your readers to know that our town is becoming more and more a manufacturing place, for which it is on many accounts admirably adapted. Its water-power from a different and unfailing stream at each end of the village; its four-fold facilities of transportation, by the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad, by the New York and Oswego Midland Railroad, by the Newark and Bloomfield Horse R.R. and by the Morris Canal; its healthfulness and the numerous low price tenement houses being erected in the South part of the town—all these things combine to render it especially advantageous to large or small manufacturers.

There are already established here—
Three Metal Rolling Mills—Benson, Moffet, Hendricks.
One Copper Bolts and Wire—Hendricks.
One Foundry—Ferguson.
One Silver Smelting.
One Machine Shop—Baldwin.
Two Carriage Makers—Dodd, Ward.
One Woolen Mill—Oakes and Son.
One Manufacturer of Reed Instruments—Pulver, Patton & Co.
One Patent Machine and Models—Ladd.
Two Binders—Bass, Dancy, Beach.
One Fine Manila Paper Mill—Judson.
Two Flour and Feed Mills—Potter, Crane & Haystack.
One Paper Mill—Stiles.
One Saw Mill—Morris.
One Shoddy Mill—Carter.
Two Planing and Moulding Mills—Powers, Peckover.
One Foundry—Ferguson.
One Manufacturer of Picture Frames—Newport.
Two Paper Box Manufacturers—Brower, Bickler.
Two Carriage Painters—Brandreth, Williams.
Two Harness Manufacturers—Hansen, Rais.
Two Carriage Trimmers—Hansen, Dodd.
Five Hat Manufacturers—Hampson and Miller; Miller and Son; Cadmus, Tishner, Hibert and Bro.
Two House Painters—Smith, Priddlem.
Builders—Oakes, Cochran, Peckover, Condit, Osman and Edwards, Baldwin, Meier.

This makes FORTY SIX in all, with a fine prospect of a regular increase of them.

OSWEGO.

UNQUAL TAXATION.

Mr. Editor: Some one has remarked that criticism to be of any value should be intelligent. This remark might be commended to the consideration of "Assessor," who seems to think the article complained of by him was altogether intended for Bloomfield as himself, whereas, if he had read with more attention he would have discovered that other localities were mentioned as well as the Town in which he resided; the gentleman also misconstrued the statements made by the author of said communication and proceeded upon the strength of a wrong interpretation, to inform the readers of the GAZETTE that no candid man would make any such statements. However, these little mistakes are excusable in a member of the fraternity to which he belongs, as the majority of us know these gentlemen have made mistakes before, that have led to more serious consequences than this trifling one. It was not asserted that whole farms had been sold in Bloomfield for eight times their assessed valuation, but that people were inquiring in the various towns and villages roundabout us why land should be taxed at one eighth of its value while other property was rated at its value; nevertheless I have not the slightest objection to meeting "Assessor" upon his own grounds, and think I can adduce an instance of a farm being sold for eight times the amount upon which it was assessed. In the eastern portion of the township were two farms located near second river which (as farms) were assessed at about two hundred dollars per acre, they have since been sold as building lots, the least desirable of which have brought eight hundred dollars per lot of about 30x170ft. Now Mr. Assessor, as in your profession you know figures won't lie, please compute the number of such lots per acre and see if the result will not prove whether you or I am the candid man, and also note if there is not margin enough left for the construction of the one or two short roads that were necessary to make building lots of said farms. Please do not understand me as saying this is a fair sample of other property in this town, but I well aware the assessments have been increased somewhat of late, but not enough to make forty per cent on a fair valuation as you claim. It would in fact be a very fair investment for any company to buy at double the amount per acre of your own valuations. Notwithstanding the fact that they have been revised by the Town Committee. These bodies are often composed of a majority of land holders or at least those interested in some way with the low valuations of land, and are not competent and suitable persons to decide equitably upon such affairs. We at is wanted is a board of assessments as our worthy Editor has proposed, who will do their whole duty in this matter without fear or favor. It has been found in other places that this is the only remedy for the evil complained of. In country towns where one Tax Assessor has charge of affairs it has been found he was generally willing to be controlled by large property owners who do not represent the majority of the taxable population taken as a whole, and who should not be allowed to dictate the valuations to be assessed upon.

In other localities adjacent to this town, the differences to be noted are much greater than here; there are tracts of land located within sound of the church bells of Bloomfield which are not assessed one sixteenth of their actual value. While writing this article, I am informed by a gentleman well known throughout this section of country and noted for his energetic action in all matters relating to improvements and also a land holder, that he has offered three thousand dollars for a certain tract of land which the owner would not take five thousand for, and which is taxed upon three hundred, how is this for one eighth? I have not forgotten my arithmetic, 10 times 300 are 3,000 and 3,000 divided by 300 is 10; this you will perceive, Mr. Assessor is more than double the rate which you found fault. I can give you even greater inequalities than this, but think this sufficient to satisfy any reasonable party. I would ask "Assessor" why have all the townships shown such a determined opposition to be annexed to the city of Newark? Is it not because land owners have been afraid of larger assessments upon real estate. Now as the rate of taxation is no higher in Newark than in some of the townships and the advantages of annexation would be very great in some respects why should they fear the bugbear of heavy taxation if as you claim your cash valuations are up to the mark. "Assessor" thinks that mud, heavy county taxes &c. &c. do the mischief. No doubt they have had much to do with it, but unequal taxation as before asserted, lies at the bottom of the matter and until a fair deal is had we may continue to occupy a back seat as compared with other places where things are conducted on an equal basis. Examine localities where the system is carried out and note the growth and development that has been inaugurated, the good results always follow. Owners are anxious to sell and one is always ready to buy and build. Walk over this town and look at the tracts of land that were obliged to be sold for division among heirs or some other cause and you will find in the majority of cases they are closely built upon, while large tracts that rich owners bolstered up by their own valuations are able to keep out the market are more barren wastes, which will not be sold except at an exorbitant price and then only upon conditions that the buyer erect a castle thereon. These are facts which each and every one can verify for themselves and go to show that all is needed to build up any village or town is to create an incentive to land ownership, and no one will deny that equal taxation is the very means to do it, while extreme measures should not be resorted to, nor radical views tolerated, some definite action should be taken to remedy these inequalities that the various towns and villages may stand on an equal footing with the great cities which are absorbing more than their share of the superabundant population that is increasing so fast in this corner of Uncle Sam's dominions.

While it is possible that this remark of E. R. M. has its fitting application in some other case, we must say for our Bloomfield section, that we do not believe he is susceptible to any influence that could possibly affect his well known probity. But no man should be required to bear the weighty responsibility which necessarily devolves upon the single Assessor of a township. With this exception we heartily endorse the above cogent reasoning on the inequality of taxation and are hopeful the subject will still be agitated till the evil complained of finds its antidote.

EDITOR.

PRESERVATION OF FORESTS AND CULTIVATION OF TIMBER.

The President has transmitted to the Senate and House of Representatives a memorial upon the cultivation of timber and the preservation of forests, and a draft of a bill prepared by the American Association for the Advancement of Science, together with communications from the Secretary of the Interior and the Commissioner of the General Land Office on the same subject, heartily approving thereof. The American Association request the passage of a law creating a commission of Forestry, to be appointed by the President, and report upon the amount and destruction of wood lands in the United States, and what measures should be adopted to provide against their waste. Mr. J. C. Wharton, attorney for the Kentucky district, writes to Attorney General Williams that he procured the trial of four or five persons who had depended on the grounds of the Soldiers' Home at Harrodsburg, Ky., and cut down beautiful trees of great value; but the court decided the act was a mere trespass. The law as to the protecting of timber trees does not apply to those of ornament. Therefore, the attorney recommends the passage of a bill to protect trees of every kind on military lands and reservations, so as to make it a criminal offense to damage any shade or ornamental trees on lands of the United States over which the Government has jurisdiction.
